World Day of the Poor
2022

*"For your sake Christ became poor."
(cf. 2 Corinthians 8:9)*

From the message of Pope Francis for the Sixth World Day of the Poor

"Where the poor are concerned, it is not talk that matters; what matters is rolling up our sleeves and putting our faith into practice through a direct involvement, one that cannot be delegated. At times, however, a kind of laxity can creep in and lead to inconsistent behavior, including indifference about the poor. It also happens that some Christians, out of excessive attachment to money, remain mired in a poor use of their goods and wealth. These situations reveal a weak faith and feeble, myopic hope....

It is not a question, then, of approaching the poor with a "welfare mentality", as often happens, but of ensuring that no one lacks what is necessary. It is not activism that saves, but sincere and generous concern that makes us approach a poor person as a brother or sister who lends a hand to help me shake off the lethargy into which I have fallen. Consequently, "no one must say that they cannot be close to the poor because their own lifestyle demands more attention to other areas. This is an excuse commonly heard in academic, business or professional, and even ecclesial circles... None of us can think we are exempt from concern for the poor and for social justice" (Evangelii Gaudium, 201). There is an urgent need to find new solutions that can go beyond the approach of those social policies conceived as "a policy for the poor, but never with the poor and never of the poor, much less part of a project that brings people together" (Fratelli Tutti, 169). We need instead to imitate the attitude of the Apostle, who could write to the Corinthians: "I do not mean that there should be relief for others and pressure on you, but it is a question of a fair balance" (2 Cor 8:13)."
